December 17, 1952 - December 30, 2024

Wes Grambart, a husband, father, grandfather, and hardworking man, passed away on December 30, 2024, at the age of 72 with his family by his side. Born on December 17, 1952, Wes lived a life defined by his dedication to family, an incredible work ethic, and a love for the simple joys of life.

Wes survived by his loving wife, Allie Grambart; his brother, Milt (Chris) Grambart; his children, Cory Grambart, Nina (Jeff) Campa, and Cody (Sarah) Grambart; his cherished grandchildren, Vincent Grambart, Jacyn Campa, Addison Campa, and Colton Grambart and Godson Jared (Trish) Grambart and nieces and nephews; Chad Lilledahl, Jennifer (Chuck) Bistodeau and Lauri Grambart.

From a young age, Wes learned the value of hard work, growing up on a farm where he cultivated a strong foundation of perseverance and commitment. He spent over 40 years in construction and concrete work, building a legacy of integrity and dedication. Wes was proud to have built four homes for his family, creating spaces filled with love and memories.

He would give his time and support to others that needed assistance whether this was helping pour patio's or supporting them through projects. He never complained about the toll his life took on his body and was always looking to give what he could to others.

In the later years of his life, Wes found faith in God, which became a profound source of strength and comfort for him. While the last several years of his journey were marked by great challenges, his faith gave him peace and the readiness to be with God.

In retirement, Wes found joy in tending to his garden, where he nurtured both plants and his soul. His greatest happiness came from spending time with his grandchildren who called him Papa, They brought light and laughter into his life. Wes's kindness, humility, and strength will forever be remembered by all who knew and loved him.
